Lew Mollenkamp is President of American Corporate Location Services (ACLS), where the primary goal is to create strong and genuine partnerships between government and businesses. ACLS seeks to smoothly navigate the site selection and incentive negotiation process for its clients by providing creative solutions to economic development issues.

Lew has more than thirty years of practice in the site selection, economic development, and workforce development fields with public, private, and non-profit experience. ACLS focuses on negotiating customized solutions for business, such as training grants from federal, state and/or local sources, solving business issues related to real estate expansions, hiring, and layoff assistance. Industries served by the company include health care, financial services, aerospace, manufacturing, retail, energy, non-profit, education, hospitality, government, and technology.

Lew and ACLS have extensive experience in developing strategic partnerships for federal grants, including securing over $100 million in funding for clients from US DOL training grant programs. He also has frequently partnered with Performance Excellence Partners to serve on its US DOL grants evaluation team. Prior to founding American Corporate Location Services, Lew was Vice President of Government Partnerships for Strategic Partnerships, and Manager of the Credits and Incentives at Arthur Andersen, and Director of Economic Development for the Pampa Economic Development Corporation, Roswell, New Mexico Chamber of Commerce and Francis Howell Missouri School District.
