Philanthropy embodies a desire to care for others and create positive impacts on the community at large. During the annual Philanthropy Summit and Awards event, Albuquerque Business First celebrates for-profit businesses, nonprofits and individuals within New Mexico who put philanthropy into action. These awards recognize those organizations and people striving to build a stronger, more inclusive and more compassionate community.

After a call for nominations from the public, Business First then assembled a team of outside judges to help review those submissions and determine the 2025 Philanthropy Awards recipients. This year's 10 honorees were nominated in three categories: Nonprofits of the Year, Best Board and Corporate Givers.
